

Passenger Safety is a priority

When you are driving on the road with passengers, it is important to keep your passengers safe. Here are some quick and easy reminders for that next road trip.

Before you start the vehicle, make sure all passengers are safely secured in their seats. For younger children, always double check to ensure that car seats are properly locked in place. A quick reminder to the adults to buckle into their seatbelts as well.

If your passengers are getting noisy and it is affecting your ability to concentrate on the road, do not hesitate to speak up. Do, however, be considerate and check with your passengers if they want to take a break, especially on a long drive. Nothing is more important than arriving at your destination safely and in one piece.

Try to keep distractions to a minimum when you are on the road. Your phone should be tucked away and out of reach, the radio should be kept to an acceptable level, and you should leave that coffee alone.

Remember to stay alert at all times and to keep these tips in mind.
The safety of your passengers rests in your hands.
